Many Old Claims Cleared Up --- The Sewer Question An Important Matter --- John W. Emery Re-Elected Sinking Fund Commissioner

The regular meeting of the Mayor and City Council was held on Thursday evening, with all of the members present with the exception of Councilmen Curtis and Eastman. It was an important meeting and many old matters were cleared up, especially in the claim department. The question of sewers which has been giving the city more or less trouble was considered at some length, and the question of the city's rights in private sewers on public streets was referred to the City Solicitor to find out something about the matter, as this is continually cropping up.

Communications and Petitions
A communication was received from Charles A. Wendell of Hill street, through his counsel, calling the attention of the city council to the defective construction of the Hill street sewer, which backed up at intervals and flooded the cellars of the houses that he owns on that street. He threatened to bring suit against the city unless conditions were improved. The matter was referred to the committee on sewers to report.

A petition of the residents of the South End district for relief from the coal dust from the cinder side walk that was laid along Marcy street, without being covered with gravel or sand was referred to the committee on streets to report.

The petition of the New England Telephone Company, for the right to erect a pole on Durgin Lane, was granted.

Joseph Sacco asked to have a sidewalk laid in front of his property on Deer street, and it was referred to the committee on streets to report.

Edward Russell petitioned for permission to locate a lunch cart on Water street, but Mr. Boynton at first thought it was too narrow for a cart, but later agreed to leave it to the committee on streets with power.

The quarterly report of the City Marshal was read and filed.

Charles D. Wentworth protested against paying $90 for the removal of the brown tall motts from the estate of Mark Wentworth, and Mayor Babbett said that it was a mischance.

ALBERT H. BAKER DIES FROM ASPHYXIATION

Found Dead At Rooms in Boston With Gas Turned on

Albert H. Baker, superintendent of the American Agricultural Chemical Company, East Boston, and an enthusiastic yachtsman, was found dead at his home, No. 23 De Wolfe street, Dorchester, last night. A neighbor smelled gas coming from Baker's apartments, broke in through a window and found him asphyxiated. The Boston police assert that it is a case of suicide. No cause for the act is given. He is believed to have been dead nearly or quite twenty-four hours when found.

Mr. Baker was a Portsmouth boy, aged 43, unmarried, and had been a long time in Boston. His mother is Mrs. Sarah Baker of No. 1 Fleet street. There is one other child, Mrs. Arnold Heap of Chicago who, with her husband, is on a visit to Mrs. Baker.

Mr. Heap went to Boston today to take charge of the dead man's affairs and bring his body to the old home.

His mother denied herself to all visitors yesterday. Mrs. Heap stated that the family does not accept the suicide theory and that additional information was expected when Mr. Heap returns.

YORK HAS A BIG CAUCUS FOR COUNTY DELEGATES

Bridge And Anti-Bridge Tickets---Latter Win By Single Vote

One of the warmest contested republican caucuses held in York for years was held on Thursday evening, to elect delegates for the County Convention. Although the bridge matter has no bearing on the election of the county officers, the matter was brought into the caucus and the two tickets were known as the bridge and the anti-bridge crowd. The anti-bridge crowd won out by one vote, but in their anxiety to show their strength there was no secretary of the meeting and it is claimed that the entire caucus will be invalidated by this failure. This has given the bridge faction a new lease of life and they are going to take advantage of it and the next caucuses will be even harder fought than this one.

The anti-bridge faction is divided as to who they are for, but it is likely that Sheriff Athorne will get the majority and J. Perle Putnam who is a candidate for county treasurer will be of the delegation if it is allowed. The final vote was 196 to 197.

The following are the two tickets. Anti-bridge: B. S. Woodward, Mahon McIntire, Arthur Parsons, George N. Thompson, John E. Keene, C. P. Dustin, E. C. Nowell, and J. P. Chase.

Bridge ticket: George E. Preble, J. W. Shannon, R. S. Tapley, Melvin McIntire, Henry Ware, Samuel Preble, and Ernest F. Holston.

PORTSMOUTH BOY KILLED IN DENVER

Fred McMulkin Of This City Is Shot By A Policeman

A dispatch was received on Thursday evening from Denver, stating that Fred McMulkin of 7 Longden street of this city had been shot and killed by a policeman in Denver.

McMulkin and another man were wanted for highway robbery, and were trying to evade arrest when shot.

McMulkin had a bad record while here, and only a few months ago escaped from the state reform school.

Today, the chief of police at Denver wired the police department of this city asking what could be done with the remains. The police in turn communicated with the parents of McMulkin who can not bear the expense of bringing the body home and advised the informant at Denver.

It appears that McMulkin was until recently a member of the regular army and stationed with Troop B, 8th cavalry, at Fort Robinson, Col. He ran away a few months ago and has been traveling under the names of William A. Hearn and Aaron Frye.

His escape from the Manchester reform school occurred last November and nothing has been heard from him since that time until this trouble came up.

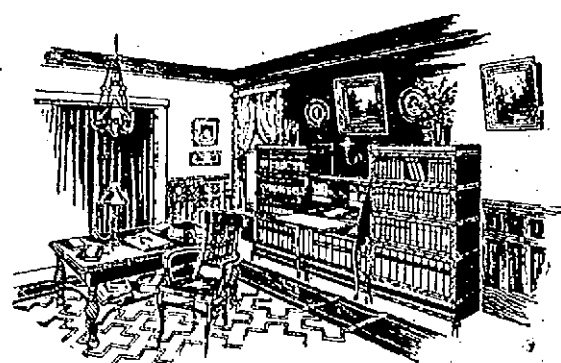

The local police have wired the officers at Denver for full particulars connected with the story of his death.

RELEASED ON BAIL

William C. Jewell, sent by the lower court to jail a few days ago for the alleged larceny of $100 from Miss Mary Mullen of High street to await the superior court, has secured the sufficient bail and was released today.

FUNERAL OF MRS. WILSON

The funeral of Mrs. Annie E. Wilson was held at 2 p. m. today from her late home at 44 McDonough street, attended by Rev. George W. Farmer. The burial was at Harmony Grove cemetery in charge of W. P. Miskell.

INVESTIGATING SMALL PASSENGER BOATS

Sensation Expected When Report Is Made Public

A government inspector has been in town the past two days from Washington, looking into the matter of the handling of small passenger craft on the river.

It appears that some one has lodged a complaint with the department against the carrying of passengers to and from the navy yard in boats not properly equipped, that the boats are overloaded, etc.

Collector of Customs Newton, it is understood, has been advised of the matter and will have to take the subject up with the owners.

A sensation, it is said, will be the result when the action of the authorities is made public.

standing and on his motion $15 of the taxes was abated.

City Wants Land Back

Mayor Hackett called the attention of the Council to the fact that there was a piece of land near the Haven Springs Station, containing about 60 acres, which the city at some time in the past had sold for about $1000. This land was now occupied by Mr. James Cornish and he was keeping pigs on the property and the Water Commissioners thought it was too near the station. The Board of Health had considered the matter after an inspection and advised doing away with the piggery so near the station as a precaution. Mr. Cornish had elaborate ideas about the value of the land, and Mayor Hackett had the City Solicitor draw up a petition of condemnation, and petitioning the Superior court to assess the damage and turn the property over to the city, under a special clause on Water Commission. This met the approval of the Council and the petition will be presented to the Superior Court and the land condemned and taken by the city. Mayor Hackett was of the opinion that the land should never have been sold by the city.

Some Old Claims Settled

Councilman Carter for the committee on Claims had a batch of claims to report on and all of the cases were disposed of.

The claim of Jacob Cohen for damage to his horse through stepping into a defective manhole on Vaughan street, was not a good claim and Mr. Cohen was given leave to withdraw.

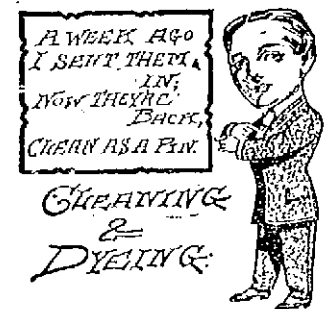

The bill of William P. Miskell for fumigating for the Board of Health, from July 1927 to January 1928, amounting to $265.99 was settled for $200. Another bill of Mr. Miskell for $454.29 for 1927, was settled for $300. Mr. Miskell was offered this sum before but refused to accept it, but now wanted to settle all of his bills. They were ordered paid.

A bill of George Woods for carriages hired by Mr. Miskell was allowed and it was ordered paid.

Nora McDonald wanted rebate of $2.15 for taxes wrongly assessed and the committee thought her claim good and she will be refunded that amount.

The committee thought that Ann Noble of 11 Jackson street had no claim against the city for damage to her property from a defective sewer, for no such damage was created. She was given leave to withdraw.

tee on Sewers reported that the Thornton street sewer had been completed, and it was well within the original estimate. They had to change the line somewhat, and he suggested that for a time that the ashes collected in this district, be hauled in and dumped over the pipe line making a better filling than at present. This the committee on streets will do. The change in the line has made it necessary for City Solicitor Corey to make some agreement with the land owners for the privilege.

Councilman White thought that now that this great nuisance had been abated the people who had made such a kick should be compelled to enter the sewer, that is the plan, and the Sanitary Inspector was ordered to notify them to do so at once.

Public Play Ground

Councilman Boynton for the special committee on the Public Play Grounds, reported that the condemnation proceedings had been completed, and that with two exceptions all of the land owners had accepted the award made by the city. These two exceptions were Miss Susan Wentworth who was in Europe and another small claim which would be accepted as soon as they arrive home.

He offered a resolution which was adopted that a committee of three of which the Mayor should be chairman, be appointed to prepare plans for the play ground and to draw up specifications for the laying out of the grounds, such as grading etc. The bids to be submitted to the City Council. This was passed and the Mayor appointed Councilman Boynton and White to act with him. Mr. Boynton offered a resolution providing for the sale of a small building on the land condemned to be removed at once. The sale to be private, if the committee so desired. This was also passed.

Richard Avenue Sewer

Councilman Boynton said that there had been a great many complaints made about the Richard Avenue sewer, and it was continually in trouble, backing up and flooding cellars and several had threatened to sue the city. He offered a resolution to the effect that the committee on sewers be authorized to engage Civil Engineer Grover to make a thorough inspection of this sewer and the trunk line and to report whether it was sufficiently large to do the work and if not what was needed to make it capable of doing the work.

The Whipple School Retaining Wall
Councilman Boynton stated that he thought it very doubtful if Commissioner Rible could spare men from the street work to rebuild the Whipple school retaining wall, and he offered a resolution which was adopted that the Mayor be authorized to obtain specifications and call for bids for doing this work.

The Market Street Paving Job

The Market street paving job was still not satisfactory to Councilman Davis, but he was willing that it should be accepted. Mayor Hackett stated that rather than call the Council together, paid $750 of Contractor Phillips' claim, and had paid for painting the Public Library and his action was ratified.

Coming back to the paving job, Mayor Hackett reported that there had been a misunderstanding with the railroad about paving between the tracks and the gutter on Market street. When the railroad officials went over the route they agreed to pay for the paving from the railroad track into the curbing a little over the required eighteen inches. The work had been done and now the railroad would not pay for the work, claiming that they had not authorized it. He intended to take the matter up with General Manager Barr, who made the agreement in writing.

Transfer of Money

A resolution authorizing the transfer of $1000 from unexpended money to various things, $1000 will go toward the Middle street job, $600 for claims and the remainder for Haven and Goslin park and public improvement. The resolution was passed.

Councilman Payne said that the building in the rear of the city building, would be properly fixed as soon as specifications could be issued.

Bills amounting to $5,051.93 were ordered paid. The pay roll for August was presented and the Mayor authorized to draw his warrant for the same.

The City Clerk was granted $25 for incidental expenses.

Private Sewers and Their Rights

Councilman White called the attention of the Council to the fact that the sewer on Melcher street was a private sewer and that the abutments who had been ordered to enter the same by Sanitary Inspector could not do so. The owner was a woman, who would not allow it, owing to the increased responsibility of keeping it repaired with the addition of sewers. She however would sell the sewer to the city for what it cost her, and Mr. White thought it no more than fair. It would be cheaper to do this than to build another sewer. This brought up the rights of private sewers on public streets and Councilman Boynton asked that City Solicitor Corey look the matter up and see what rights the city had in the private sewers laid in public streets.

Adjourned at call of Mayor.

The Methodist church of Greenland held the annual picnic at Jenness Beach. They were driven to the beach in a hayrack by Charles Brackett. It should have been held the day before but was postponed until today on account of weather.

STILL ALARM

There was a still alarm shortly after nine o'clock last evening, when the chemical engine was called to the house at No. 35 Pleasant street, where there was a chimney fire.

The damage was slight. The house is owned by the Jacob Wendell estate and is occupied by Ida M. Deering and Mrs. Mary E. Seriggins.

SEAMAN KILLED IN GUN DRILL

Fatal Accident on Board the New Battleship Mississippi

Joseph J. Henry, an ordinary seaman and powder passer on board the new battleship Mississippi, was killed in a gun drill in one of the forward eight-inch turrets Thursday at Newport. His neckerchief caught in the training cogs of one of the guns and Henry was drawn into the machinery and his neck was broken. Captain Fremont of the Mississippi ordered an immediate investigation. Henry was 19 years of age and enlisted at Memphis, Tenn., in October last.

MY LADY'S LID.

My aunt! Where did you get that hat? Who ever did Invent a lady's lid? Who had the nerve to roll it out And stretch it more and more, From centerpiece to rim, until It spreads from shore to shore, And likewise lifts its summit up, On birds' and other wings, Above the earth until it scrapes The clouds and other things? Who added to its wondrous width Of brim, so that the space Could easily accommodate An automobile race? Say, who does that? Who built her hat? Who made it something never seen On earth or in the sky, A hat of wondrous-making plain, A mountain towering high? Cut wider doors for her to get Inside of any place, And put the ceiling on the roof To give her nodding space. Push up the clouds to let her stand Erect upon the ground, And shove the wide horizon back To let her turn around, Oh, wondrous, wondrous, wondrous hat That flatters out and towers! Who ever saw a thing like that—A pancake filled with flowers? A hat enormous—sprawling? Yes That carries the Merry Widow And she who fails to catch it should Slip out and change her lid, Go, widow! What a wonder woman hat And my aunt! Where did she get that hat? —New York World.

Of Undoubted Gentility.
Mrs. Newriebe (patronizingly)—Were any of your ancestors men of note, Mr. Cynic?

Mr. Cynic—Yes, madam, I should say so. One of them was the most famous admiral of the day, and commanded the allied forces of the world. Mrs. Newriebe (with altered tone of deep respect)—Is it possible, Mr. Cynic? And what was his name? Mr. Cynic—Neph, madam.

Eager to Help.
Priest—Pat, there's a hole in the roof of the church, and I am trying to collect money enough to repair it. Come, now, what will you contribute?

Pat—Mr. services, sor.
Priest—What do you mean, Pat? You are no carpenter.

Pat—No, but if it rains next Sunday, sure O'll sit over the hole.

Seeing His Face.
Patience—As I came by Mrs. Redd's door I overheard her say to her husband: "Oh, darling, I'm so glad to see your face again! Has he been away long?"

Patience—No; they both have been out in their automobile, and I suppose he had just taken off his auto mask! —Yonkers Statesman.

Very Likely.
"Pop?"

"Yes, my son."

"Were there only two of everything in the ark?"

"Yes, my boy."

"But, pop, with all these animals there must have been more than two of them!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Brother Had to Have 'Em.
Bill—You say you wore evening clothes?

Jim—Sure thing.

"Didn't know you owned any?"

"I don't; they were my brother's."

"Didn't know he had any?"

"Sure thing; he's a waiter!"—Yonkers Statesman.

Only Then.
"Little boy, do you ever swear?"

"No, ma'am, 'ceptin' when it's necessary and I gotta do it."

"When is it necessary to swear?"

A PROTEST IS ENTERED.

Tape Across the Finish Torn Down While Amateur Athletic Association Officials Swarmed Along Edges of Track Crying "Foul!"—Carpenter Continues to Run, However, and Finishes in Remarkable Time—Unsportsmanlike Tactics of Britishers.

London, July 24.—The unfortunate series of disputes which has arisen since the opening of the Olympic games, not only between the Americans and the officials of the Amateur Athletic association, but between the athletes of other nations and the same officials, culminated yesterday afternoon in an occurrence which threatened to wreck the inter-Olympic meetings.

The trouble was over the final heat of the 400 metres flat race, for which J. C. Carpenter, Cornell university, I. E. Taylor, Irish-American A. C., W. C. Tobbin, Cambridge, Mass., and Lieutenant Haswell, United Kingdom, qualified.

With the exception of Taylor the men got off quickly on the firing of the pistol and Robbins sprinted in front, taking the pole from Carpenter, who was just behind, with Haswell trailing along beside him. It looked like anybody's race as they approached the last turn, the three leaders being bunched. Their sprint for the final hundred yards was just begun, when suddenly a number of officials rushed onto the track, the tape across the finish was torn down and the race was declared void.

It was hard for a time to understand what had occurred, but the official pronouncement was that Carpenter had fouled Haswell at the turn. Everybody close to this spot had noticed that the three men had swerved toward the outside of the track as they came around the bend at a terrific pace, but there were no signs of a deliberate foul visible to those in the press stands.

An uproar followed such as seldom or never was witnessed on an athletic field. Officials of the Amateur Athletic association, with whom the arena has been filled since the opening of the games, ran along the edges of the track shouting "foul!" and appeared even more excited than the runners, who, with the exception of Taylor, continued the race to the finish, Carpenter passing the post first, Robbins second and Haswell third. Taylor, who was a considerable distance in the rear, was dragged off the track by one of the excited officials, who shouted all the while that it was no race.

The American contingent set up a yell of delight as the man had apparently captured the race which had been predicted for the Britisher, while the vast audience filling the other stands sat silent, not knowing the cause of the excitement in the arena.

Then the announcer made the brief statement through a megaphone that the race had been declared void, but no reason was given. Still, not knowing why, a great British cheer broke out and continued for several minutes, men who could not under any circumstances have seen the incident, crying "foul!" louder than those sitting opposite the spot where the alleged foul was said to have taken place, and who, seeing Haswell taking a wide turn, thought it a mistake in judgment, as he had lost of room to pass Carpenter on either side.

The uproar continued for nearly half an hour and as the people pointed out of the stands the arguments were taken up in the aisles and gateways by excited thousands, and the race is still the subject of the bitterest wrangling everywhere.

Matthew P. Halpin, the manager of the American team, who was in the arena, immediately entered a protest, claiming the race for Carpenter, who had done the distance in the remarkable time of 48.23 seconds, some watches making it even less.

A committee meeting of the Amateur Athletic association, the details of which have not been made public, was called, and the judges who rendered the decision and Haswell were called to state their case. Neither any member of the American committee nor any one of the three American runners, however, was called on to make any statement, and the committee, after upwards of two hours' consideration, rendered the following decision:

"The judges decide the race void and order the same to be run over again on Saturday at noon." Carpenter is disqualified.

When they heard the decision, the members of the American committee met and passed a resolution ordering the men not to run on Saturday.

BUSINESS IS PICKING UP.

New York, July 24.—That there is a gradual, steady increase in progress in all lines of business, was the opinion expressed by the presidents of the various subsidiary companies of the United States Steel corporation at a meeting here, according to a statement given out by President Carey of the parent company after the meeting. Carey said the reports of the eleven present were uniformly favorable.

NO DOUBT AS TO GUILT.

President Will Not Let Up On Prosecution of Standard Oil Company.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 24.—President Roosevelt has announced the determination of the administration to proceed with the prosecution of the Standard Oil company, despite the decision adverse to the government handed down by the United States circuit court of appeals. The statement in the matter, made public last night by Secretary Lach, follows:

"The president has directed the attorney general to immediately take steps for the trial of the Standard Oil case. The reversal of the decision of the lower court does not in any shape or way touch the merits of the case, excepting so far as to size of the fine is concerned. There is absolutely no question of the guilt of the defendants or of the exceptionally grave character of the offense. The president would regard it as a gross miscarriage of justice if through any technicalities of any kind the defendant escaped the punishment which would have unquestionably been meted out to any other defendant who had been guilty of such offense."

"The president will do everything in his power to avert or prevent such miscarriage of justice. With this purpose in view, the president has directed the attorney general to bring into consultation Frank B. Kellogg in the matter, and to do everything possible to bring the offenders to justice."

NOT GOING TO HIGH COURT.

New York, July 24.—It is learned through sources identified with the Standard Oil company that the $29,240,000 case is not likely to go to the supreme court of the United States. The issues as made up do not involve any constitutional questions, such as are necessary to take the action to the supreme court.

POLICEMAN'S QUEER STORY.

With Woman When She Was Shot, but Denies Killing Her.

New York, July 24.—Policeman David Sheffard of Brooklyn is under arrest, charged with the murder of Barbara Reig, a pretty young woman, whose body was found in a shelter house in Irving Square park, Williamsburg.

Investigators were informed that Sheffard had often written to Miss Reig. This information was placed in the hands of Deputy Police Commissioner Wood and he summoned Sheffard to his office. There Sheffard broke down and dictated a circumstantial version of the affair to the stenographer.

"I was patrolling my post on the edge of Irving park about 1:10 in the morning when Barbara came up," he said. "She said she had been looking for me on another beat for three hours and wanted to talk to me. I took her to the shelter house."

"I took off my hat and coat and club and revolver and put them on a table. We talked and I smoked my pipe. Suddenly I heard a shot fired. I switched on the light and found Barbara lying across the box with a hole in her head."

Sheffard then states that he became frightened, threw on his coat and hat, picked up his revolver and club, and scurried out into the night. He told a clump of bushes, he says, and saw Policeman Kohler hurrying to the scene. He pretended to help Kohler search for the murderer.

It was established that Sheffard met Barbara Reig about six months ago, and although he is a married man and has a child, he admits that he was attentive to her.

PROTEST OF ITALIANS.

Idelmond, July 24.—The Italians of this city have filed a protest with the Italian ambassador against the ordinance of the city council which reduced the number of saloons in the city to 150, as a result of which many of them, along with members of other nationalities, lost their licenses. The state laws provide that only recreational voters shall be allowed to engage in the liquor business or serve liquor to customers. The issue may involve a delicate point as to the provisions and scope of the state liquor law and treaty obligations.

SHORT STRIKE OF CARMEN.

New York, July 24.—A strike of conductors and motormen which began and ended abruptly affected practically all the surface car lines in Westchester county. The lines were tied up from early yesterday until late in the afternoon. The men struck because Refractor Young refused to renege the superintendent of the company, who had been dismissed for alleged neglect of duty. When Young notified the strikers that they would be laid off the men hurried back to work.

ATPO SCORES TIED.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 24.—Completing the original schedule of the Glidden 1000 tour, the competing automobiles rolled into Saratoga. The day's run, however, did not result in breaking the existing in the contest for the Glidden and Hower trophies, and as a result the teams still remaining perfect scores left Saratoga today on a trip which will not be completed until a winner has been announced.

QUARTET OF DESPERADOES.

Two Concerned In Boston Shootup Still at Large.

LEADER'S BODY RIDDLED.

Storm of Bullets Poured Into Him When Finally Brought to Bay in Cemetery Under Extremely Dramatic Circumstances—Men in Saloon at Time of First Assault Identify Man Under Arrest as One of Those Concerned in the Raid.

Boston, July 24.—That there were four desperadoes instead of three concerned in the shooting up of Jamaica Plain and West Roxbury on Tuesday night, and that one of the men is under arrest in the person of Giuseppe di Vico, a second is the man shot to death in Forest Hills cemetery yesterday morning and that two are now at large, is the general conclusion reached as the result of recent developments.

A new situation presented itself late last night when several of those who had followed the desperadoes and been shot by them on Wednesday night failed to identify the man killed as one of the desperate characters who had run amuck through the streets. He was, however, identified as one of the men who entered the barroom the night before and smashed the cash register. Those in the barroom at the time of the assault also last night positively identified, it is claimed, Giuseppe di Vico as one of the men who shot up the barroom.

That still two other men were concerned and are still at large was made certain by the discovery that the home of Mrs. Lucia Sprule had been entered and two coats and two hats, one a straw, had been stolen. In their place were found two coats, both of which were badly bloodstained and bore bullet marks.

Officer Buckley also states that soon after the killing of the man in the cemetery yesterday he met two suspicious looking men coming from the direction of the cemetery at the entrance of the Arnold arboretum. They refused to answer his questions and instead covered him with a revolver and backed into the arboretum. The officer fired as soon as the men were some distance away and they ran, without returning the fire. Later it was found the men were wearing clothes which corresponded in description to the coats and hats stolen from the Sprule home. The men also answer the descriptions of those who did the shooting up of Keyes and Washington streets Wednesday night.

A hunt over the hills of Arnold, arboretum and Mt. Benedict, cemetery through the day brought no success, although one man, a farm hand, was found who had seen two men walking across the fields, one wearing a straw hat and the other with his arm in a sling.

The police are therefore confronted with the fact that, apparently, after a long night of watching and searching with 400 police officers, they have failed to apprehend the two men who shot up Jamaica Plain and West Roxbury Wednesday night, killing one man and wounding eight or ten others.

The man who was killed in Forest Hills cemetery is believed to have, at least once changed his clothes during the progress of his raid by stealing from houses in Jamaica Plain, there is little reason to believe that the name of "Edmund Gibson," found in his hat and in the man's right name, and no one has been found who can recognize him. He is believed to be a tall man, however.

The shooting in the saloon on Washington street in Jamaica Plain on Tuesday night, when one man was killed and two seriously injured, and Wednesday night's experiences, when nearly a dozen more were shot and one killed by the wild career of the desperadoes and the men were rounded up in Forest Hills cemetery, are declared by the police and eye witnesses to be the most desperate and sensational ever known in this section of the country.

The killing of the leader was dramatic in the extreme, the scene of the action being among the shadows of the tomb and monuments of Boston's most beautiful city of the dead, just at dawn, as the cordon of 400 police which had been on guard all night gradually advanced from all sides and closed in on the desperado, who fled barefoot and haggard before his pursuers.

Flashes of lightning and the roll of thunder reverberated over the heavens as the forces closed in on their quarry and then, when the lone, despised player of their lawless officers and innocent victims finally succumbed into a clump of shrubbery in a deep ravine, they poured into his body such a storm of bullets as would have slain an army had all found a human mark.

His rapid-fire gun silent, the officers dragged the desperado's body forth and men struggled together for the chance to roughly seize the corpse and ascertain for a certainty that life was still extinct.

Of the victims of the reign of terror Tuesday and Wednesday nights, two are dead. They are: Frank J. Drake, aged 35, a plumber, who was killed in the saloon raided by the desperadoes Tuesday night; Herbert E. Knox, aged 43, day watchman at Forest Hills cemetery, shot by the desperadoes Wednesday night.

The injured number eleven. Patrick Doran, injured in the saloon holding, is likely to die. The others are: Mrs. Della Fallon, shot in the face; Patrolman Edmund J. Inglis, shot twice in left leg; Thomas Moore, conductor, shot in right thigh; Patrick Doran, shot in abdomen; Thomas Winterstein, proprietor of the saloon where the shoot-up started, shot in head and arm; John Nolan, shot in right side; Patrick McGinn, shot in ankle; Gerald Fleming, shot in left wrist; Patrolman Thompson, shot in left leg; Patrolman McMahon, shot in abdomen.

CONFESSES TO MURDERING AUNT.

Eberhard Wanted Money to Marry a New York Girl.

New York, July 24.—August Eberhard, self-confessed murderer of his aunt, Mrs. Ophelia Eberhard, a Venetian widow, whom he lured to a lonely spot in New Jersey a few days ago and shot to death, was captured near Paterson, N. J., and is now a prisoner in the Hackett-cusick jail.

Eberhard says that he was in love with a New York girl and that he needed money to marry her, so, knowing that his aunt had $2500, he plotted to kill her and steal the money. Eberhard says he also intended to kill his cousin, Ophelia Eberhard, to whom he was engaged, so that nothing would stand in the way of his marriage to the New York girl. There was a wound in his right leg, which the murderer confessed was inflicted by himself so as to make the police believe he had been wounded on the night his aunt was killed.

An important point in the confession was the statement by Eberhard that he had an accomplice in the murder plot. He said, however, that his accomplice had no hand in the killing of Mrs. Eberhard.

Eberhard said that he had lured the money he stole from his aunt. He led detectives to a tree near Little Falls, and there dug up $2000 in bills, which is the amount that was stolen. Eberhard says that he and his cousin, a police passed through Albany, Troy and Buffalo into Canada, and on to Detroit and Chicago without being recognized by the police. When he reached Chicago, he says, an irresistible power compelled him to return to the scene of the crime, and then he planned to wound himself and surrender to the police in the belief that he could convince them he had not murdered his aunt.

KILLED HIS BROTHER.

Stonington, Me., July 24.—A vendor charging Frank Babbs, aged 28, with the murder of his brother, Antonio, at Crotch Island, was returned by the coroner's jury. After a thorough search of the island it was concluded that the fugitive had made good his escape under cover of darkness. Three witnesses were held in the sum of $1000 for their appearance at the October term of the superior court.

THE FOUNDING OF QUEBEC.

A Mimic Reproduction of Its Historic Past.

ADDRESS BY FAIRBANKS.

Vice President Hopes For Peace Among Nations of the World Without Involving the Sword—Relations With Great Britain Will Never Be Disturbed—Message to People of United States From King of England Delivered by Prince of Wales.

Quebec, July 24.—The Prince of Wales was the central figure yesterday in the magnificent spectacle reproducing Quebec's historic past and ushering in the 300th anniversary of the founding of the city by Champlain. Aside from the spectacular features of the event, it was the occasion for a notable exchange of addresses between Vice President Fairbanks and the Prince of Wales.

An enormous crowd filled the Place des Armes, fronting the Champlain monument, where the exercises were held. Here the prince received the addresses of the American and French representatives, the mayor of Quebec and finally Champlain himself, reproduced in the days of old, come from the mimic reproduction of his original ship, the Don de Dieu, with some 5000 followers representing every phase of old France in Canada.

In addressing the prince Vice President Fairbanks congratulated Quebec upon the distinction she enjoyed in the presence of the prince and spoke briefly of the past history of Quebec. Continuing, he said:

"It is with unusual pleasure I bring you greetings from the President and the people of the United States, who rejoice with you in the progress you have made in the midst of which you make for the strength and honor of a great people. We are not indifferent to your welfare nor are you indifferent to ours. The blood of a common ancestry is in our veins. We have much in common."

"The United States and Canada have but fairly entered upon their careers. Back of us lies a brief but honorable history and before us stretch illimitable opportunities. We confidently believe that we are each destined to play a large and worthy part in the progress of the human race upon the western continent. We have no rivalries except in the ways of power. We neither covet the other's territory. We covet only each other's neighborly esteem."

"As we behold this majestic celebration in which the representatives of different nations participate and witness the manifestations of a genuine fraternal spirit among them, we are impressed with the thought that there is no rational reason why nations should resort to war. May we not venture to hope that the widespread movement which seeks to insure the maintenance of peace among the nations of the world without jangling the sword, may grow in strength and at no distant day become incorporated as a part of the fixed policy of nations."

"There is such a thing as righteousness among nations. Let them take their differences into international courts of justice and there let reason and righteousness prevail. Let nations by every honorable means which enlightened statesmanship may suggest, avoid an appeal to that court where might alone turns the balance."

"We have no need to fear that the relations between the United States and Great Britain will ever again be disturbed. We have faith to believe that our flags which grace this historic occasion and which mingle together and salute each other upon the Plains of Abraham will never confront each other in conflict upon either land or sea."

The Prince of Wales, in replying to the vice president, said: "The king, whose earnest desire is always to promote the best and closest relations between nations, has specially desired me, as his representative, to convey to you, Mr. Vice President of the United States, and to your colleagues, not only a hearty welcome, but also a warm expression of thanks, both to you and to your government, for your presence here on this auspicious occasion."

"Your presence is not merely an indication of your interest in this celebration—it is an outward and visible sign of the friendship, concord and good will between ourselves and the great nation which you represent with so much distinction. We think of the United States as having given the example of energy and courage in conquering and cultivating the forests and boundless prairies which now yield bountiful harvests and unlimited wealth. We recognize that the presence of representatives of the United States and France among us testifies to the growth of the spirit of friendship between nations."

"The high ideal of universal peace and brotherhood may be far from realization, but every act that promotes harmony among nations points the way toward its attainment. This celebration is such an act, for it appeals to Canada, to the British empire and to the whole civilized world. I therefore rejoice to be here, to take my part with you during these memorable days in paying homage to Champlain and doing honor to Quebec."

THREE TROOPERS ARE KILLED.

Many Seriously Injured In Storm Which Swept Pennsylvania Camp.

Gettysburg, Pa., July 24.—As a result of a severe electrical storm which passed over the camp of the National Guard of Pennsylvania last night, three troopers were killed and twenty-six seriously injured.

This morning Lieutenant Colonel Belcher, a member of the staff of Governor Stuart, came to this place from the camp and made the official announcement. Those killed were Privates Barber, Gaver and Morrison.

The body of Gaver was severed in two, as though by a sword. The greatest confusion prevailed and the visitors to the camp, as well as many of the troopers, were panic-stricken. When the storm came up Governor Stuart was entertaining a few friends in his tent. The storm broke with such suddenness and fury that the occupants of the tent found themselves entangled in the canvas and ropes to an instant, but all escaped serious injury.

When the storm swept down upon the camp there were hundreds of visitors present. Scores of men and women sought shelter in the Y. M. C. A. tent. This immense sheet of canvas was tossed like a toy balloon in a gale of wind, but strangely enough not one of the occupants is said to have been injured.

WIDE RANGE OF DISCUSSION.

Taft's Speech Revised and Put Into Printed Form.

New York, July 24.—After a conference of five hours at Sagamore Hill, during which time President Roosevelt and Secretary Root had opportunity to go over the speech Mr. Taft has written for delivery next Tuesday at Champlain, no expression for direct quotation was given by any of the parties to the conference. Mr. Taft returned to New York with few corrections to make in the document, and in a happy frame of mind. The entire approval of his speech by the president was evident from all the candidate had to say.

Mr. Taft announced that the pressing issues of the campaign have compelled him to take a wide range of discussion, and he has undertaken, in 12,000 words, to discuss each of the important issues of the campaign in a full and detailed manner.

Mr. Taft left the Manhattan hotel shortly before midnight. Meanwhile the speech had been gotten into printed form, and the words of the candidate were suddenly lifted and he gave himself up to the first night of rest he has had for many days.

BRYAN'S BUSY DAY.

Lincoln, Neb., July 24.—A steady stream of visitors to Fairview kept Mr. Bryan busy yesterday and last night. They included politicians, representatives of a negro Bryan and Kern club, members of the local order of Maccabees, and many others, who came out merely to pay their respects. Bryan retired yesterday as editor of The Commonwealth, a signed letter in the paper announcing that his candidacy for the presidency makes it necessary for him to take such action. As a personal campaign contribution, the proceeds of The Commonwealth, over and above actual expenses, will be turned over to the Democratic national committee.

WATSON QUENS CAMPAIGN.

Macon, Ga., July 24.—Thomas E. Watson, Populist candidate for president, opened his campaign here last night. In his speech he asked for Georgia's electoral vote and said that if necessary he would give them to Bryan to defeat Taft. His assaults were all directed at Bryan, however, and his praises were for Roosevelt and Taft. His charge against Bryan of refusing to vote for Crisp for speaker in the Democratic caucus because of his being a Confederate was heard in silence.

DOUGLAS OUT OF POLITICS.

Monmouth Beach, Mass., July 24.—Former Governor Douglas, upon his return from a yachting trip of several days, was questioned concerning the reports from Lincoln, Neb., that he might be named as chairman of the Democratic national committee. "While I shall deeply appreciate the compliment if it is tendered to me," said Douglas, "I shall not accept, as I am out of politics forever. This is final."

WISCONSIN ROLLERS.

Milwaukee, July 24.—Discussed over what they deem the failure of the Democratic state convention to accomplish anything more than fifty delegates from various parts of the state gathered here, following the final adjournment of the convention, and agreed to circulate nomination papers for a complete state ticket, headed by A. J. Schultz of Milwaukee as candidate for governor.

MURDERER HANGED.

Wethersfield, Conn., July 24.—Lorenzo Rossini was hanged at the state prison here today for the slaying of the murder of 121 Communists by slaying him in the abdomen during a quarrel at Hartford. Rossini left a wife and one child.

OUR CANDIDATES: FOR PRESIDENT

WILLIAM H. TAFT
 of Ohio.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
James S. Sherman
 of New York.

FRIDAY, JULY 24, 1908
 BACKING UP THE CROW

Josh Billings was the philosopher who liked a rooster for two things, one of them the crow that is in him, and the other the spurs that are on him to back up the crow with.

Have you read that piece of Col. William J. Bryan's, in which he takes so much pains to tell how the President is so hampered that he cannot really do anything after all? He got good money for "My Conception of the Presidency" an written for one of the high class weeklies that might almost be called a magazine. That was the conception.

He makes one think of Josh Billings' rooster—he is so different—he goes around mourning because he has no spurs on him to back up the crow. It is doubtful if Josh Billings would have liked a rooster which would crow as much as Bryan anyway, but he certainly would not have liked a rooster without spurs.

The Nebraska crower was once in Congress and served on a committee to investigate the trusts. It was a Democratic Congress, too, and the committee had a Democratic majority. That committee was headed with a great deal of crowing and the means that was to secure relief to the people from these trustful trusts. It finally was forced to report, and it reported that it didn't know what to do, and none of the committee crowers had any spurs on them to back up the crow. They hoped the next Congress could do better, and in accordance with the committee's recommendation, the matter was referred to the next Congress already elected and controlled by the Republicans.

The spursless rooster from Nebraska went away back and kept still, or at least kept out of our hearing, till twelve years ago when he was crowned in the Democratic national convention. His spurs hadn't grown then. His plea was that if put in the White House he would have some spurs. He has ever since been doing the same crow and mouning, telling what he would like to do but he didn't have the power, and would the people please give him the power.

Now we hear that if Bryan is put in the White House, he will not have power to do anything. He will still be like the rooster with a crow and without spurs.

Everybody is acquainted with the rooster that crows—the trusts the acquaintance upon people. But what if a rooster crows and nothing else and wants an endless series of things to happen before the rooster can get spurs? And then they won't be spurs that grew on him naturally, but just some artificial ones fastened on and liable to come off.

Well, such a bird isn't fit to strut around in the yard of so big a farmer as Uncle Sam.

OUR EXCHANGES

He Will be Welcome

The announcement that William H. Taft will probably make four speeches in Maine, will be hailed with great satisfaction by the Republican voters who will be privileged to attend the meetings. The presence of this distinguished standard-bearer will lend great force to the campaign, and will serve to increase the fine majority which the Republican party wants to announce on election night.—Rockland Courier-Gazette.

Information Wanted

It would be instructive if the people of the United States could know how many business enterprises are postponed "until Bryan is defeated again."—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Kern's Lack of Diplomacy

Mr. Kern of Indiana has offended the woman suffragists of America and injured Mr. Bryan's chances and his own Colorado and Wyoming, by his unskillful remark that Mrs. Kern is not running for vice president and that her views on liquor and like questions are of no consequence to him or to the public. She may strongly favor Sunday closing and oppose the army canteen, but that is no proof that he holds any such opinions. All of which may be true, but there is a vein of contempt for feminine sentimentality running through his statement, that will be felt if not seen.—New York Evening Post.

A Lesson in Natural History

What time do the birds get up in the morning? That first drowsy fluttering outside your window at a very early hour, anyway—you are probably too sleepy to look at the clock. It sounds as if the little songsters were saying a prayer of thanks for the new day, though the old proverb cynically expresses he is only getting up to look for the early worm. Early worm indeed! We suspect that worm must have sat up all night to be out and about before the birds.—Lexington Sun.

Y. M. C. A. JUNIORS WIN AT YORK

The Portsmouth Y. M. C. A. Juniors baseball team went to York Beach Thursday morning and defeated the York Beach Juniors by a score of 15 to 7. The beach boys started in to win with the local boys and pitcher in the box, but when Brackett of Greenland, the local boys split-halfed it. It was a different story. H. Weaver, Beane, Hill and Davis excelled for the winners while the Elms brothers and Cavanaugh played well for the beach. The Portsmouth team's lineup was as follows:

Beane, C. Sanderson 3b, Brackett p, H. Weaver 2b, Watkins 1b, Hill ss, L. Weaver lf, Davis cf, Bair rf.

Good Things To Eat

NUMBER FIVE

RAISED DOUGHNUTS—CREAM FILLING

At night scald one cup of milk. Add one-quarter level teaspoon of salt one-quarter level cup of lukewarm water and mix with enough flour to make a stiff batter. In the morning add two tablespoons of melted butter, one-half cup of sugar, one beaten egg and flour to make a dough barely stiff enough to handle. Roll three-quarters of an inch thick, cut in diamonds with a scalloped cutter or with a jagged and let rise on a board for one hour, turn and let rise one-half an hour. Fry in deep fat. When cool cut across with a sharp knife, lay a spoonful of raspberry jam on one half, cover with whipped cream, press the halves together and sprinkle the top with powdered sugar.

These doughnuts are excellent for breakfast without the filling; in that case flavor with a few raisins of nutmeg, cinnamon or lemon extract. Good plain raised doughnuts may be made from bread dough or that mixed for rolls; these are best eaten warm as they become dry, tough and tasteless when cold.

Unsweetened raised doughnuts served warm with maple syrup is another good combination and the relish for them may be kept up by varying the flavoring from time to time.

SHE'S A BEAUTY

The Battleship New Hampshire Which Will Soon Pay Us a Visit

The Quebec correspondent of the New York Sun says: "Notwithstanding her enormous size the United States ship New Hampshire is the most rakish and coquettish in appearance of any ship of the three fleets now here, and she is by far the most attractive looking, owing to the fact that she is the only one not wearing the now prevalent war color of dark slate. Her fine lines and bright color cause her to stand out in marked contrast to her companions, and as she is anchored immediately opposite Dunfrien Terrace and close to where the indomitable will anchor she is very much in evidence."

HART LODGED IN LOCAL JAIL

He is Accused of the Larceny of $24 at Salem, N. H.

John Hart of Lawrence Mass., was lodged in Portsmouth jail last night in default of $100 bail. Hart has been working about the place at the home of Burton E. Davis of Salem, a railway mail agent, and is accused of stealing $24 from his employer.

Trial Justice W. D. Palmer bound him over to the October term of superior court. He was unable to furnish bail and was brought to Portsmouth by Officer W. F. Rowell.

WANT TO COME HERE

Clerks of B. and M. and Maine Central Railroads to Play Baseball in This City

The Boston and Maine and the Maine Central railroad clerks at Portland and Boston want to play a baseball game in this city on August 8 or 22 and have written here asking for grounds suitable for the game.

The only available place at present is the Portsmouth Plains and Station Agent Grant has arranged through Mayor Hackett to have these grounds reserved on the above dates for the railroad men.

Portsmouth is selected on account of the point being most central and will require about the same amount of travel for both clubs to get here. Should they come on August 8 they will probably have a chance to witness the presentation of the silver service to the battleship New Hampshire which occurs on that day.

FORTY MILES AN HOUR

Possible Speed Over Splendid New Track of Atlantic Shore Line

Perhaps one of the best constructed electric railroads in New England is that section of track last built which forms the connecting link between the eastern and western divisions of the Atlantic Shore Line system. It extends from York Beach to Kennebunk. The roadbed is ballasted and equipped in every manner equal to that of a steam railway, and would be suitable in all respects for the passage of heavy trains.

Over this section of road cars can easily and safely maintain a speed of forty miles an hour. This is substantially true also of the previously built roads between Portsmouth, Dover, South Berwick and York Corner.

With such facilities as these it is not improbable that near future arrangements of time schedules will be adjusted so as to provide through fast cars at intervals through the day to secure rapid transit and quick connections at chief railroad points.

PERSONALS

Miss Florence Ward has been passing a week with relatives in Boston and vicinity.

Charles J. Hamblett and family of Nashua are at Rye North Beach for the summer.

Miss Frances Grace, daughter of W. D. Grace, has returned from a visit to Dublin, this state.

Edward Dodge, brother of Mrs. W. G. Meloon, who has been spending a few weeks with his sister at Jackson, arrived here today and reports Mrs. Meloon's health much improved. Mr. Dodge left for his home in the South.

Sheriff George O. Athorne of York county was feeling good yesterday at his home in Elliot. The York and Kennebunk delegations had started the ball rolling for his re-nomination.

CERTIFICATE. Navy Department, July 15, 1908. In compliance with the act of Congress approved June 30th, 1906, I hereby certify the new s of the public service have it necessary to increase at this time the force at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., for the prosecution of the work of repairs on hull and for other purposes.

MANY BEAN WORMS AND SQUASH BUGS

Insect Pests Destroying Gardens in Portsmouth

There are worms on the beans. Where they came from nobody seems to know, but hundreds of Portsmouth gardens are infested.

The worms are little dark green fellows, half an inch long and as thick as an average knitting needle. The worst thing about them is their appetites which call for a hearty diet of bean leaves for all the tribe. Many bean vines have been ruined.

One of the worst damaged gardens is Capt. Frank E. H. Marden's on South street. Capt. Marden expected at least a bushel and a half of dry beans in addition to the family having a plentiful supply of string and green beans. If he gets enough dry beans for seed he will be lucky.

Some other gardens are affected nearly as badly and occasionally there is one but little damaged.

A strange sort of squash bug has attacked the squashes and is reported as very destructive. Its first appearance was in the vicinity of the Frank Jones estate and Woodbury avenue. It is extremely numerous in spots and its rapacity is something to wonder at.

All the old regular standby garden pests are still doing business.

AT THE NAVY YARD

Two marines had a funny experience at the ferry of the Atlantic Shore Line on Thursday evening. A young man with a large tub of ice cream found his load too heavy to handle and requested one of two marines to give him a lift. The soldier politely answered yes and grabbed the tub, only to slip on the float and drop gently into the river. He disappeared below the surface and his cap floated smoothly on the water. His club, thinking he was under the cap, lost no time in diving into the river and make a hero of himself. There was nothing there but the cap and his partner had come up in another place from where he went down only to give him the laugh. Both were none the worse for the ducking while the ice cream is resting easy on the river bed.

Gov. Charles M. Floyd and Adjt. Gen. H. B. Cilley visited the navy yard today to meet Captain E. K. Moore on matters connected with the presentation of the silver service to the battleship New Hampshire on August 8. He was received by the marine guard and a salute fired from the yard battery on his arrival.

One electrician's helper in construction and repair and one in equipment were called today.

Rear Admiral F. M. Delano was a visitor at the yard today.

James S. Leamy of Syracuse, contractor, yesterday turned over the new pattern shop to the department of steam engineering. The firm constructed the handsome building in a little over a year and has made a record that speaks for itself. Scarcely in the history of the yard has any firm done such quick work as the Syracuse builders who would have completed the structure long before the specified time only the department held them up to put in a flooring. The bidders' figures were $95,000 and during the time of construction they have not been called to account for anything wrong in the work.

The farmers will go to Hampton Beach and the prohibitionists will hold their state convention the same day.

The political campaign for over two years' duration near the Vaughan place meeting on Thursday night was warm while it lasted. It was only one of the series.

The Grange will hold an entertainment at Rye town hall this evening. The program is in charge of the Misses Caroline Philbrick, Josephine Jenness and Beatrice Perry.

A heavyweight member of the Franklin Pierce Veterans Firemen's Association recently astonished his friends by his catch of several large trout from the pond of James Harvey with a line, wicker shaft and a horse's head for a hook. The variety of bait is not mentioned.

POLICE COURT

Yesterday Brought Only Two New Cases Before Judge Simms

The morning session of police court found only two drinks today, a decided falling off of business in the local hall of justice.

John Burns, big and strong enough to be in the prize ring, will go up on the Bayside platform tonight for a thirty day stay at the farm where he will also work out costs of $5.00.

Charles Allen of York held him self to the town's famous products on Thursday as long as the coin lasted. Today there was a change in the program and he is hunting for $2 and costs of $5.00 to add to the very funds before he can return to the beach making factory across the river.

ANOTHER CHANGE MADE

Robert Stone, who recently left the employ of the Rockingham Granite Lick and Power Company and accepted the position as chief engineer at the Portsmouth Brewing Company, has relinquished his duties at the brewing plant and left for Boston where he will hereafter reside.

R. J. Flax of Providence has taken the position with the brewing company made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Stone.

WILL BE HERE SATURDAY

The Station Agents' Association of the Boston and Maine railroad will come here on Saturday on invitation of Agent F. P. Grant. They will dine at the Granite Hotel, Isles of Shoals, where the regular monthly meeting will be held.

LETTERS WHICH GIVE US PLEASURE

Words of Appreciation from More of the Winners in Our Prize Story Contest

The Herald has received the following additional letters of appreciation of the great prize story writing contest which has just closed:

Hard to Express Gratitude
Rye Beach, N. H.
Editor of the Herald:

Dear Sir:—It is so hard for one to express their gratitude on paper but still I will try my best to tell you how much we school pupils thank you for your interest in the essay department. I am sure we all enjoyed the contest and were certainly pleased to read the compositions of our friends as they appeared daily in your paper.

I am sure no one thought of working merely for the prize but every one entered the contest just to see what they could do and to discover if their ability in that line was really worth anything.

Thanking you for your kind interest I am

Sincerely yours,
A. G. GOTHROPE.

A Friend for Life

Editor of the Portsmouth Herald:—It was more than a surprise to me besides a pleasure. I can not express my thanks. I had for the last idea my story of "A Jentons' Dog" would take a prize. It is a true story and happened just summer in Dover. I hope something like of the kind will appear in the Herald.

Your loving friend,
MARY A. DALEY,
Grade VII.

P. S.—I will continue to read your valuable paper as long as it exists. I hope you will accept my hearty thanks.

From Miss O'Brien

Editor of the Short Story Contest:
Dear Sir:—Although I write a story for the Herald contest I had not the best idea of winning a prize.

It was joyful news to me when I heard that I had won ten dollars. I received the same at the office on Monday afternoon.

Thanking you and the judges most

DIED IN WEST ROXBURY

Mrs. Annie B. Lomas of This City Passes Away After An Operation

Mrs. Annie B. Lomas, wife of William Lomas of Madison street, passed away on Thursday at the Faulkner Hospital, West Roxbury, Mass., aged fifty-three years and two days. The deceased had been a patient sufferer for some time and two weeks ago underwent an operation from which she never recovered.

Mrs. Lomas was a woman well known and loved by a large number of the residents of this city and her death is a source of much grief among her acquaintances. Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Charles Weaver.

NO LABOR PARADE

Central Labor Union Decides in Favor of Some Mass Meetings

At a special meeting of the Central Labor Union, held Thursday evening at the Navy Yard League Hall, after a very thorough discussion as to the advisability of a Labor day parade, it was decided not to incur the expense which a parade would entail, but to reserve the money for the purpose of holding the series of mass meetings already contemplated in the interest of increased organization.

PERSONALS

R. L. Taylor is passing the day at Canobie Lake.

John D. Randall made a business trip to Boston today.

Herbert O. Nelson has recovered from his recent illness and is able to resume his duties.

Mrs. William Chandler of Langdon street passed Thursday at Salisbury and Hampton beaches.

DROPPED DEAD AT YORK BEACH

Mrs. Mary Downes Of Concord Was On Way Home When Stricken

Mrs. Mary, wife of John H. Downes of Concord, dropped dead at York Beach on Thursday afternoon, as she was about to board the train for her home. Mrs. Downes who has been in ill health, had been staying at the Fairview hotel at Concordville, and Thursday afternoon was feeling so well she decided to go to her home in Concord. Accompanied by her daughter Anna M. Downes she was just boarding the 4:05 train for this city, when she was stricken. She was removed to the waiting room, but expired before either Dr. Frank Young or Dr. E. O. Cook who were called arrived.

Mrs. Downes was 50 years of age and leaves a husband one daughter and a son C. M. Downes.

CITY TO GET PREFERENCE.

Lines of Police, Fire Department and Water Works to be Repaired First

Hereafter when telephones are out of order, the police, fire department and water works offices will receive the preference in the making of repairs. This is in consequence of the action of Mayor Hackett who too up the matter with D. B. Small of Manchester, the district superintendent of the telephone company, and urged that a preference be given to those telephones which are used in the protection of life and property.

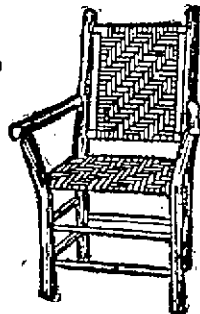

Mr. Small has notified the Mayor that the local superintendent, Mr. E. H. Drew, has been authorized to exercise such discrimination and will be expected to do so.
